

End User License Agreement (EULA)

This EULA (End User Licence Agreement) is an agreement between you and Abyme, based in London, governing the use of the font software ordered by you. By downloading and/or installing the font you acknowledge that you have read, understood and agreed to the terms this licence.

1. Copyright

The font software is the exclusive property of Abyme and its designers. The font software and its design are protected by copyright and intellectual property law.

2. License

Abyme grants you a non-exclusive and non-transferrable licence to use the font software for your personal or internal business purpose under the terms and conditions specified by this EULA.

Each licence is for a single user only. A single user is allowed to install the font software on one (1) portable device such as a laptop, and one (1) desktop device remaining at a single location. The font software shall not be installed on a server accessible by the internet or another shared network. If you need to install the font software on more computers than described above you are required to purchase additional licences.

You are not allowed to distribute, sell or rent the font software. You agree to exercise reasonable care to prevent any unauthorised distribution of the font software.

You are not allowed to modify, copy, rename or alter the font software and its design in any way. If you require a modification please contact us.

You are allowed to make one (1) backup copy of the font software. This backup copy is protected by the same licence.

The font software is provided by Abyme in OpenType format.

3. Embedding

You are allowed to embed the font software into your electronic documents for the purpose of printing or private use. In the exclusive case of outputting printing files you are allowed to send the font software to a printer or pre-press service (contractor) for output purposes only. The contractor is not allowed to use the font software beyond the scope of this use. You agree to inform the contractor of the terms and conditions of this licence.

You are not allowed to embed the font into electronic documents for the purpose of distribution to the general public through any media (such as websites, pdf documents, Flash documents, electronic books, video games, films, streaming videos, software or any kind of audiovisual material) and networks (such as the Internet). If you require a license to use the font software on a media as listed above please contact us.

You are allowed to use the font software to make pixel-based images (such as gif, jpeg, png or svg) for use on the internet provided that the image is not generated automatically and made personally by the licensed user.

The use of the font software in whole, parts, or by way of modification using editing software for the purpose of creating a static or animated logo or brand mark for branding purposes of a company, product, service, individual, recording artist or band, institution, association, sports organisation, political party, etc. is subject to an additional license for the public exploitation of such logo or brand mark. Please contact us.

4. Liability

The font cannot be returned due to its digital nature. If the product is defective please contact us for support within thirty (30) days after the date of purchase with a proof of transaction.

The font software provided by Abyme are provided 'as is', and without warranty of any kind. Abyme does not warrant that the operation of the font software will be uninterrupted or error-free or that the font software is without defects.

Abyme cannot be held responsible for any direct or indirect damage resulting in the use or inability to use the font.

Abyme will replace the software if misplaced if shown a proof of transaction.

5. Final provisions

Any breach of the terms of this licence will cause its termination. In this event you agree to immediately delete the font software and certify that no copies remain in your possession or control. This licence is subject to United Kingdom law. All disputes related to this licence shall be settled by the courts of the United Kingdom.

Abyme reserve the right to update this licence at any time without prior consent or notice.
